- The sender must also provide a free, readily accessible and functioning unsubscribe function (and make this function known to recipients in the relevant data as sent) which allows those recipients to elect not to receive further bulk data.

- Accessing material not intended to be accessed by you or logging into a server or account which you are not authorised to access;
- Attempting to probe, scan or test the vulnerability of a system or network or to breach security or authentication measures without proper authorisation;

Woolworths Mobile may immediately suspend or terminate a service without notice or warning if:

- Woolworths has reasonable grounds to believe that your use of the service will give rise to a threat or risk to the security and/or integrity of the networks and the service;
- You access the network in a way that we believe is causing a fault or having a detrimental effect on the network or other users.

Viruses, Worms, Trojans and Denial of Service Attacks

It's important to protect networks and devices against higher level malicious programs (such as viruses, worms and Trojans) and lower level Denial of Service (DoS) attacks that can be distributed or propagated via the internet, including email. You must ensure that you have in place appropriate protection of your systems, networks and devices to reduce the risk of transmission of such computer programs, and reduce the likelihood of such attacks originating, from their networks, systems and devices through the service or Woolworths Mobile Network. Some of these protection methods may include firewalls, an appropriate plan regarding email attachments and the most up to date virus scanning software.

Restrictions On Use

You must not:

- Use the Mobile Service for M2M Use or to facilitate MVOIP or SMSIP delivery (for example, as an alternative to standard circuit switched voice calls or standard SMS messages);
- Where Mobile Service contains a nominal consumption rate of zero or equivalent:
 - generate mobile terminating access or SMS message terminating access payments (for example, by using SIM boxing);
 - transmit, refile or aggregate domestic or international traffic on the mobile network; or
 - use the Mobile Service with devices that switch or reroute calls to or from the mobile network or any third party without Woolworths' consent;
- Resupply the Mobile Service.

If Woolworths or a Woolworths supplier becomes aware of, or reasonably suspects, that you have breached the above obligations, Woolworths or a Woolworths supplier may:

- Require you to cease the activities that are in breach of these obligations within 24 hours;
- Suspend, limit or terminate your account or the provision of the Mobile Service (or any feature of it); and/or
- Charge you on a pay-as-you-go basis, by notice to you.

Suspension or Termination

If you violate any element of this Woolworths Mobile Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) then under the relevant User Agreement, Woolworths Mobile may suspend or terminate the relevant service.

Woolworths Mobile may give notice to a user warning that the user's use of a service is in violation of this AUP and that their service will be suspended or terminated. If the user does not rectify their use of a service, Woolworths Mobile will suspend or terminate the relevant service. Woolworths Mobile may also immediately suspend or terminate a service without notice or warning.

Woolworths Mobile may also suspend or terminate a service, with or without notice, if required by any applicable law.

Where Woolworths has a right to suspend your account or the provision of a Mobile Service, then:

- Any expiry date applicable to the credit expiry period or the plan will not be affected by such suspension;
- Any suspended Mobile Service will retain its mobile number;

- Woolworths may not process any porting request in relation to the suspended account or Mobile Service during the period of suspension; and
- If your account is not reactivated within six months from the date of suspension, Woolworths may place your account in a deactivated state.

Woolworths may disconnect your account permanently if it enters a deactivated state. If this happens all unused value or credit allocated to that account is forfeited and the mobile number will be quarantined.

Woolworths Mobile may seek written assurances from users that they will cease using a service in a way that violates this AUP.

Woolworths Mobile is not liable for any damages of any nature whatsoever suffered by any user or any third person resulting in whole or in part from Woolworths Mobile's exercise of its rights under this AUP.
